Subject: Proposed housing development at Haugh ahead, Whins Lane.

Dear Sirs,

I strongly object to yet another housing development on Whins Lane, Read.

You have given planning permission to two previous developments in the last few years within the same area, and ruined what was a beautiful place to live.

The houses that are thrown up are not in keeping with all the original properties and have lowered the standard of the area.

When you gave permission for the last estate to be thrown up we debated whether to leave the area, we now most certainly will do if this application is successful.

What once was a quiet residential and peaceful lane is now busy and noisy, the lane itself is not suitable for the amount of traffic now using it, and ultimately this is going to be a massive problem.

To have to suffer the noise of all the building work for a third time is outrageous. Most of the inhabitants in the original houses here have been here for a long time and older, and this just is not fair, when retired we expect peace and tranquility as it used to be.

For us, our view from the house would totally be ruined as it has already been jeopardised by the other two housing estates, but at least we still have a view, even though they are blots on the horizon. This further proposal will totally block our view as it is intended to be immediately in front of our house, and will also significantly reduce the value of our property.

We totally object to this proposal, as it is obviously a green belt area, and will protest with any available means to prevent it happening, to ruin the area and people's lives, for someone to make money from such a deal. The field itself is big enough to build 20 houses in a different situation, without obstructing other residents, if it is owned by the farm on Trapp Lane, it should be built near them, not added to our misery with congestion of the other last two sites, but where they have chosen is obviously beyond the farms view. It is totally unfair and unreasonable.

Yours Faithfully,
