Dear Sirs,

I should like to hereby raise my objection to any more houses being built in Clitheroe in the latest proposed tranche of Highmoor Park Farm, Hawthorne Place and Chatburn Road.

I object because there are no imminent plans to build another primary school, a secondary school, a medical centre or 1,000 parking spaces. All of which are needed for the population explosion in the immediate areas of Clitheroe, Barrow and Whalley.

Why does the Council even consider new sites when Taylor Wimpey already own land between Standen Old road and the A59. I believe that pressure should be brought to bear on existing developers to build on the sites that they have already acquired, not let in more developers on greenfield sites.

Builders must be made to pay for the infrastructure, if not in full, then a substantial contribution. No more houses without the infrastructure in place please.
